Response to Amendment

1. The amendment dated 4/17/2006 has been fully considered and entered into the Record. Claims 1-102 have been canceled and claims 103 and 104 remain active. Amended claims 103 and 104 contain no new matter.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The text of those sections of Title 35, U.S. Code not included in this action can be found in a prior Office Action.

2. Claims 103 and 104 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Wilson et al. (US Patent 6,155,432) as evidenced by Daulton USA.

Wilson et al. disclose a high performance filter comprising a mixture of carbon, ceramic, glass or silica fibers and nanofibers (whiskers) (Abstract and col. 5, lines 3-6). The fibers of the applied patent are generally from about 3 microns to 20 microns and the nanofibers are from about 0.03 to about 5 microns in diameter (col. 5, lines 12-23). The fibers may be made of ceramic and glass fibers and the nanofibers may be made of ceramic, silica and alumina (col. 5, lines 27-66). The filter media comprises a blend of the conventional inorganic fibers and nanofibers creating a uniform distribution throughout the filter (col. 5, lines 3-7). It is reasonable to presume that if the fibers are uniformly distributed with the larger coarse fibers the fine fibers may agglomerate creating bundles or pockets of fine fibers throughout the filter. The applied embodiments comprise fibers of all instantly claimed diameters of the trimodal distribution, and as such anticipates the instantly claimed trimodal distribution. Applicant's new limitations of having hydrophilic nanofibers and oleophilic coarse fibers are met by the invention of Wilson. The applied reference teaches the use of ceramic nanofibers and carbon coarse fibers and may be used to filter either oil-based fluids or water-based fluids (col. 6, line 64-col. 7, line 10).

Ceramic is inherently hydrophilic and carbon is inherently oleophilic. This is evidenced by Daulton USA®, which uses ceramic filters for water and expressly states that carbon is oleophilic (<http://doultonusa.com/HTML%20pages/technology.htm>).

Conclusion

THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
